

CushCush Gallery Makes New Space for Contemporary Design + Art in Bali

August 4, 2016

CUSHCUSH GALLERY, a space for the intersection of contemporary design + art, opened in Denpasar with crucible on the 15th of July 2016. Its inaugural exhibition featured sculptural objects made in collaboration between Ross McLeod, designer, educator and academic based in Melbourne, and CushCush. Through thoughtful detailing, careful sourcing of unique materials and artisanal craftsmanship, CushCush is the partner of choice for architects, designers and artists. CushCush Gallery will present a year-round program of curated exhibitions, and will continue to grow its residency and collaboration programs, facilitating exchanges between an international community of artists and creatives and Bali.

CushCush started from the idea of making unique things with unique materials! Having worked in design based architectural firms in Australia, Singapore and Malaysia, Founding partners of CushCush understand the need to encourage and facilitate designers and architects to create more interesting pieces of artwork, be it furniture, objects or accessories to complement the spaces they create.
